Cameron voters Tuesday elected Coleman Duncum, Cameron businessman, mayor over incumbent Bassel Wilson and write-in candidate Lincoln Mondrik in a 1,119-vote city election.

The vote count was:
DUNCUM: 589 votes
WILSON: 389 votes
MONDRICK: 118 votes

A large crowd gathered at City Hall Tuesday night as Election Judge B. J. Matocha announced the winners in the mayor and council races.

In two other contested races, incumbent Roy Griffith defeated B. L. Miller, 590 to 473, for a ninth term as councilman, and John A. Smith defeated Homer Allen, 626 to 428, to take a one-year unexpired term as councilman vacated in March by the resignation of Lincoln Mondrik.

Incumbent Sam Houston returned to another two-year term with 925 votes and drew 68 write-in votes against him for J. E. Flinn.

Only E. L. Wied escaped without regular or write-in opposition to top city vote-getters with 1081 for a one-year term created by the death of Hayden Lawrence.

The City Council Tuesday night formally accepted Police Chief Chester Simons' resignation, but voted to retain him on parttime duty while new applications are taken.

The 8 p. m. meeting followed the annual city election Tuesday.

The Council accepted "with regret" Simons' resignation and retained his services on a parttime basis for $150 per month until a successor is named. About five applicants have asked about the job, including the police chief at Bryan.

Simons has assumed management of the Cameron Country Club.

Councilmen also discussed locating funds to complete the 48-inch sewerline to E. 11th St. and pave several blocks of 32-foot wide paving on North Lamar and vicinity. Councilmen said cost of the 32-foot width costs $4.43 per foot compared to $3.05 for a 22-foot width.

Mayor Bassel Wilson announced that income in the police department from traffic fines was $1354 plus $35 in meter fines for a total March income of $1,389. Budgeted anticipated income for the first six months in fines was $3,000 and actual revenue was $4,300 he said.

The council also instructed City Atty. Charlie Smith to write Jack Logan, East First St., about cleaning up refuse on his property. Officials said complaints had been filed about the accumulation.

Duncum told The Herald that he "sincerely appreciated the confidence the voters placed in me, and I will humbly attempt to serve the people as their public servant."

Wilson seemed to take the defeat in good spirits and commended the present city council for "the wonderful job they had done during the past two years."

He did say it was "good that people were interested in wanting to be mayor and in turning out for a heavy vote."

Mondrik was mentioned as a write-in candidate in a circular Monday following an exchange of campaign charges in circulars put out earlier by Duncum and Wilson.

The vote was just under the 1,196 total in the last mayor's

Yoe Places First In Rockdale Relays

By Robert Mann

Steve Malone, Cameron's young Fireball won again, this time in Rockdale Friday night, Cameron swept to first place in the annual Rockdale Relays, one point ahead of rival Georgetown.

Malone was high point man over 300 competitors and 28 schools. The Yoemen rolled up 89 points, Malone totaling 39 of these. The Eagles of Georgetown kept it topsyturvy with 88 points.

Malone captured the attention of the spectators throughout the meet, an all-day event that was a postponement of the previous Saturday. He won first place in the high jump with a 5-8 mark, first place in the broad jump with 19 feet, 5 inches, second place in the low and high hurdles plus running a lap in the mile relay.

His toughest competition for the high point trophy came in the form of Larry Klotz from Thordale with 23 points. Randal Mickens, Georgetown's hurdle man was next with 25 points and Bobby Evans of Thordale took 4th place with 24 credits.

The only record set was in a field event, Jim Wright of A & M Consolidated tossed the discus 155 feet, 5 and three-fourths inches to break the old mark of 153 feet 5 1/2 inches. It was set by Dan Roberts last year.

Thordale was the meet's black horse giving opposing teams a run for their money with 61 points mainly due to Evans and members of their 440 yard relay team.

A & M Consolidated totaled 44 points for a fourth place finish in the final balloting.

The high jumping event was filled to the brim with Yoe contestants. Ed Lierman and Dwayne Juergens tried their luck next to Malone. Juergens took a third place finish and Lierman a fifth.

The Yoemen still lack a polevaulter and had no entry in the event that could place. It was won by Harry Harbour of Rogers with a 10 feet, nine inch leap. Rogers took second in his team event at the Cameron relays two weeks ago.

Thordale's Bobby Evans took the shot put mark with 51 feet 8 1/2 inches. Harvy Holliman of Rockdale and Jim Khusman of Georgetown were second and third.

Malone was the only Cameron placer in the broad jump and took first with a 19 foot 5 inch leap. Dee Smith of A M Consolidated and Hal Rosenfranz were next in line.

The discus was won by Wright of A M with a new record being set of 155, 5 feet and three-fourths inches.

Substitute Clerk Carrier

The track events were high lighted by the high and low hurdle dashes as Georgetown's Randal Mickens and Malone battled it out for first place in both events. Mickens was the narrow winner in the lows with a 20.9 time and swept the highs by another small margin. His time was a 15 flat.

Carroll Fikes of Cameron placed fourth in the lows behind Frank Gonzales of Elgin.

Georgetown's relay team took the 440 yard dash, Bob Kobza of Schulenburg won the event with a 53.1 time.

Two Cameron boys placed in the 880 which was won by Billy Charanza of Caldwell with 2:09.1. The next places were as follows: Emil Parker, Schulenburg; J. C. Spacek, Lagrange; Perry Harbour, Rogers; Johnny Richter, Cameron; and Joe Harber, Cameron.

Ed Lierman took second in the 220 yard dash and third in the 100 yard dash. Larry Klotz edged him out in the 220 with a 22.2. Todd of Georgetown was second and Minden of La Grange third.

Group Explains Need

The executive committee of the Newton Memorial Citizens Advisory Board has announced a strong effort to publicize the need for a new hospital in Cameron.

Chairman Drayton McLane, vice-chairman Henry Siehman and Secretary Jack Tumlinson all of Cameron met with advisory board members in a second organization meeting Monday at the Milam District Courtroom.

In a joint statement, they said the community should know of the need for improved hospital facilities as established by a survey of the Hill - Burton Committee of Austin, composed of six physicians, one osteopath, one dentist and a sanitary engineer.

The Hill - Burton Committee

determines the distribution of federal grants for construction of new hospitals. Where surveys show existing need, the Hill - Burton Committee will contribute federal funds up to one-half of necessary construction costs, the report said.

A grant of $160,000 has been promised Cameron toward construction of a new $320,000 Newton Memorial Hospital with further provisions for $40,000 more to meet half of the increased cost of building the structure. The $320,000 figure was based on estimates two years ago.

The Hill - Burton panel turned down a number of similar requests from other communities to make the grant available to Cameron, the executive committee reported. The officers of the Newton Memorial Advisory Board pointed out the specific need is for improved safety and efficiency.

The present hospital structure could not be fire-proofed, making a new building more practical in the long run, the statement said. Many of the most recent architectural ideas such as a central nurses station will be used. Modern construction and additional space will make possible the installation of more advanced equipment.

Newton Memorial Hospital has provided about $400,000 worth of medical work for which the hospital has received no compensation since its construction in 1942 Baptist Church.

The political winds are swelling full force with the approaching May 7 Democratic primary, and state candidates are making frequent visits to Cameron.

Most recent visitor to Cameron was Jack Cox, of Breckenridge, a 38-year-old gubernatorial candidate running against Gov. Price Daniel.

Cox literally dropped in on Cameron by helicopter Wednesday afternoon, landing at the 77 Drive-In Theatre. He was making a flying tour of Central Texas cities. 101 - 101 - 101

Recently, Atty-Gen. Will Wilson was in Cameron for a Chamber banquet speech and his opponent, Waggoner Carr, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives made a personal tour of Cameron about two weeks ago.

Meanwhile Gov. Daniel was in Hearne two weeks ago to dedicate a new industry there and spoke before a Waco Rotary Club meeting last week. 101 - 101 - 101

Cox's helicopter trip is a modification of Sen. Lyndon Johnson's whirlwind tour of Central Texas last fall, during which he stopped in Cameron to dedicate the new National Guard Armory. Johnson flew in a bi-motored plane.

If and when it is possible, Cameron and Milam voters should take the opportunity to meet these candidates and find out first hand what they are interested in doing if elected.

This is probably as good a way to find out about specific interests you may have as any other method. Just ask! 101 - 101 - 101

Civic improvements continues in Cameron as construction goes on the Kof C Bowling Alleys, Bush Construction Co. building and Fikes Trading Post among others.

The courthouse is getting a new lawn and is due a repainting of windows and exterior fixtures next week.

Nubroot Can Cut Cotton Yields By 25 Percent

COLLEGE STATION — Deterioration of the embryo roots with in cottonseeds is probably the principal cause of nubroot — a condition which can reduce yields by 25 percent, according to Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Cotton plants with nubroot are weaker and set fewer bolls than normal plants, tend to wilt readily, and may topple over during periods of moisture stress. In some years this condition results in a big loss for Texas cotton producers.

Scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service traced nubroot to seed deterioration after noting that many seedlings grown from deteriorated seeds had injured radicles or primary roots. It had previously been found that high temperature and humidity during storage damaged the embryo plants within cottonseeds and that seedlings grown from such seeds are less vigorous than normal. It is known, Smith said, that nubroot is a part of the cotton seed

COUNTY ... Cattle Create Industry?

It is difficult to believe there are 101 million head of cattle in the nation, even though Cameron is in the midst of the cattle-production belt.

At last report, there were 60,000 plus head of cattle in Milam County alone which puts this county in the major league of cattle raising.

We noted recently that a state cattlemen's group looked to 1960 as a banner, near-record year.

All the while, Sec. of Agriculture Benson dampens the optimistic outlook in warning against over-expansion of herds.

Cattle have been increasing at four million head a year in the U. S. for the past two years.

For an area like Milam County, where cattle conditions are generally favorable the year 'round, cattle is big business. In a recent valuation of the county cattle crop, a figure of $7.5 millions came up.

Now it would occur to almost anybody studying area resources, this value, just like our truck crop potential, would provide a natural cause for related industrial development.

Here then the optimism for the cattle industry could benefit the area by creating industrial interest in cattle-related fields.

Using our resources is probably the most direct way to bringing much-needed industry into the Cameron area. Otherwise, we are just another Texas small town competing against tremendous odds for new industry.

We see in the optimistic 1960 outlook given by Texas cattlemen as an opportunity for Cameron.

This fact we must surely realize: No industry is going to walk into Cameron and beg us to allow them to locate here.

But well-founded optimism, based on such potential as the area cattle picture, will make sense to industry related to cattle.

We can apply the same reasoning to truck crops or to the aluminum industry. Alcoa has a major installation in Milam County. Why shouldn't related industry see the value of being close to the source of supply for production of aluminum products?

These three, cattle, aluminum, truck crops, can be the basic factors in Cameron and Milam County growth and employment. Do we not need it?

Texas Leads In Highway Building

AUSTIN — Texas leads all other states in the building of new interstate highways since the beginning of the program four years ago.

Today, 562 miles have been completed in Texas, says State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, and 355 more miles are under construction. Cost so far: $460,400,000.

Target for the State is to have 3,630 miles in this main, heavy-duty trunk system.

These roads, Greer points out, have built in safety features and are three times as safe as ordinary highways.

Features that enable these roads to cut the traffic toll by one death a year for each 10 miles of length are:

1. Dividing of traffic to eliminate head-on collisions.
2. Grade separations to cut out intersection accidents.
3. Wide lanes with surfaced shoulders to provide ample room for passing.
4. Controlled access entrances and exits to ease cars on and off the highway.

But the super-roads are only a fraction of the program in the state with more miles of public roads than any other in the country.

In less elaborate divided highways not in the interstate system, Greer says the state now has 1,029 miles of divided highways, with a goal of at least 2,700 miles by 1967.

Most Texas mileage is in the farm-to-market system, now up to 30,156 miles.

NEW INDUSTRY SEEKING
Reorganized Texas Industrial Commission is setting out toward some tall goals with a short stick.

Commission, with a staff of one man plus a secretary, is after a Texas-sized share of new industries for the state. Its appropriation for the year is only $23,750. Other agencies of government have assisted, however, with research questionnaires already have been sent to Texas cities to build up a permanent file of data on potential sites.

NO WIDE OPEN SPACES
As Texas prairie gives way to subdivisions, more and more Texans are getting in each other's way.

Problems growing out of the population explosion and rapid urbanization of Texas were the subject of a two-day Austin conference for newspapermen, civic leaders and planners.

Texas newspapers were commended by Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League, for their efforts in keeping the reading public informed on complex and changing city problems.

Conferees pondered how to plan orderly, pleasant communities for the two million additional residents expected to be added to Texas cities in the next ten years. Also, how to correct the all-too-prevalent habit of "acres of hot asphalt and cold stone," congested streets and the "grotesque suburban sprawl."

ONE WORD MAKES DIFFERENCE

Because of a slip of the tongue or typewriter in Potter County, Court of Criminal Appeals dismissed appeals in three cases mistakenly addressed to the Court of Civil Appeals.

A court order from the district court in Amarillo said the defendants had given notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals, Austin.

Since the cases were criminal cases — driving while intoxicated, contributing to the delinquency of a minor — the civil court could not handle them.

And since they were appealed to the civil court, the criminal court could not handle them.

Improved Rural Living Aided By Community Effort

More than 900 rural communities in Texas are finding community improvement projects easier to accomplish when everyone joins hands in helping each other. Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, says 213 of these communities are now participating in the Texas Community Improvement Program sponsored by electric utilities companies in the State and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

All over Texas neighbors are working to help make their community a better place in which to live. Brown continues. It is hard to tell the difference in Texas communities because they all have the same aim — improvement. The goal of each is to help their neighbor and themselves to brighten their community life.

"When I attend a community improvement meeting, the faces look the same, whether in East Texas, the Panhandle or along the Rio Grande," Brown says. "They all look happy and you find yourself thinking, 'This is a good neighborhood in which to live and raise a family.' These words mean a lot. In fact, no greater compliment can be paid a community than to say it's a good place to live."

Improving a neighborhood is hard work, Brown points out. It's a job that's never completed. Improvement requires vision, study, ingenuity, initiative, a cooperative spirit, and plenty of elbow grease. The reward in neighborhood development, the sociologist concludes, is seeing your community go forward and become a better place in which to live.

THIS WEEK:

Dear editor:

It never has worried me much about what other people thought about me, consequently I don't get riled up over what the television industry thinks of the American public, but this doesn't go for some people.

I was reading in a newspaper only this morning where the head of the national P-TA was outraged at what the television people are offering the public, especially the children.

She said there is far too much violence, too much silliness, too much trash, offered the 30 million children watching TV these days. Also she said if the television industry would take a survey they would find the American public isn't as moronic as the industry apparently thinks.

Well, it's my opinion that the television people aren't in much shape, mentally speaking, to be surveying anybody's intelligence, judging by some of the programs I've had a chance to see.

But back to the violence angle, the brutality, the shooting, the crime, the delinquency, the stupidity, shown on television, with millions of kids watching, I know there are some people who say if you don't think your children ought to see such programs, turn the thing off, but they don't understand the control kids have over the situation. The only way to keep most children of most parents from watching television is to wait till the picture tube blows out.

Consequently, the argument is that the only way to improve the situation is to improve the programs and until they do, we're liable to have more juvenile delinquents, more youthful crime, more children with the wrong viewpoint toward life, etc.

Well, now, I'll tell you. I think a lot of kids could stand some improving, but I doubt if improving television will do it.

And if you want to protect children from hearing about violence, silliness and stupidity, you'd better not let them read the news papers or listen to the radio or read history. In fact, you'd better not let them associate with adults at all.

Yours faithfully,

Johnson, Poage Cite Citizenry

Senate ...

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson said today the White House Conference on Children and Youth by bringing together grass-roots citizenry and the federal government — offers "an impressive demonstration of the strength of our land."

Johnson, in a radio broadcast recorded for his Texas constituents said he was happy to see that persons from all parts of the nation were "thinking and planning to assure for our children opportunities in a better world than we know today."

He touched briefly on factors brought out at the conference discussions, including:

—The rapidly increasing population of the nation.

—The fact that 44 per cent of the children under 18 years of age now live in seven states — Texas, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and California.

—More Mothers of young children are working than ever before.

—Americans are working fewer hours at a higher rate of pay than ever before.

Meantime, he said, juvenile delinquency continues to increase. Classrooms and teacher shortages exist in many areas. City slums provide a breeding ground for juvenile crime, and public health and welfare services face serious manpower shortages.

House ...

By Cong. W. R. Poage

Spring is just coming to Washington. After two months of cold and snow it has, at last, turned warm. The cherry trees will soon be in bloom. The crowds of visitors have not waited for warm weather. Each day the Capitol is full of sightseers — many of them school children. I think this is a thing I wish that the school children of Central Texas could visit their National Capitol but since it is too far away to be practicable, I do hope that many of them may visit Austin. There is much to see and to learn at our own State Capital.

Next week we expect to have a number of groups from home. We expect to have at least five groups here from our district in behalf of Flood Control projects — Waco, Proctor, Stillhouse Hollow Reservoir, and a Reservoir on the San Gabriel. We also expect a group from each of the Rural Electric Cooperatives serving our district. They are McLennan County Electric Cooperative, with headquarters at McGregor; Beltrami Cooperative of Rosebud; Bartlett Cooperative of Bartlett; Limestone County Cooperative of Mart; Hamilton County Cooperative of Hamilton (serving much of Coryell and part of Bosque County); Erath County Cooperative of Stephenville (serving part of Bosque County); and Hill County Cooperative of Haskins (serving part of McLennan County).

We will also have delegations of Postal workers from several offices in the District seeking an increase in Postal wages.

In addition, I have meetings arranged next week with officials of the Veterans Administration and with local citizens in regard of new construction for the hospital at Temple and in an effort to return the Outpatient Clinic at Waco. At the same time the regular work of the Congress will continue.

This week there has been considerable interest in a general farm bill. The Republican National Committee Chairman criticized our bill at Lincoln, Nebraska and some of the other opponents went so far as to publish an article purporting to quote penalties from our bill, when the bill contains absolutely no penalties whatsoever. Since the alleged quotes were on their face absolutely false, I think we have a right to assume that their conclusions about the effect of the bill are equally false. It all shows that people think this bill has a good chance of passing.

CITY ... National Library Week ...

This is Library Week. In every city and town across the nation, schools, newspaper, periodicals and libraries are citing the value of books and the buildings that shelter them.

Not since the days of the philanthropic Carnegie Library fund program has there been more interest in books and libraries. It took Sputnik to arouse us.

It is a good time to visit the Cameron Library. Containing several thousand volumes, this structure can be and should be one of the most popular places in town.

However, a visit to the library will make apparent the growing need for an improved shelter for all those books. Unfortunately, an uninviting library building makes it less interesting to people who like to read.

Perhaps the library is unimportant. We don't think so. Like good schools, it must provide an atmosphere conducive to reading for learning and pleasure as well.

While the Cameron school system has a library, it serves only the students. With Cameron the center of about 25,000 population, it should be a part of this community's plans to further the educational interests of the adult population.

We could preach the endless values of improved reading habits. But the worth of a good library and good books is self-apparent.

We could justify an improved reading habit or the re-establishment of one by measuring the savings of time and TV tubes if we read a little instead of watch all the time.

We could point out the old-fashioned fun of thinking along with an author of our choice rather than second-guessing how many villains are going to drop on the next half-hour Western.

We would rather state simply that the printed word is next only to a thinking process in importance to man. National Library Week is such a time to appreciate these gifts.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK — APRIL 1-7

TP&L SALUTES

TEXAS INDUSTRY

Industry is the life blood of the growing communities of Texas. It creates jobs, makes new businesses possible, and encourages people to stay in their "home town." It boosts the economy and the standard of living.

Texas Power & Light Company, a business-managed, investor-owned, tax-paying electric utility company, provides for industrial growth by supplying the electric power needs of today, and by planning for the needs of tomorrow. This Company's representatives, working with civic leaders, chambers of commerce and other groups, strive constantly for a better "business climate" in the communities it serves as a means of attracting more industries to its service area.

Census Supervisor Urges Prompt Return Of "Blue" Forms

J. Fred Simon, Jr., district supervisor of the 1960 Census of urged area residents who have received "sample" questionnaires to fill out the forms and mail them to the Census district office promptly.

The sample questionnaires, printed on glue paper, were left at every fourth household during the first stage of the census which is now virtually completed. These questionnaires contained the detailed population and housing questions which are asked of a 25 percent sample of the population. By using only a sample of the population, the Census Bureau is able to collect important information about the Nation's people at a fraction of the cost of a complete canvass.

The success of the Census depends upon the cooperation of local residents in filling out these forms and mailing them promptly. He pointed out that all information furnished to the Census Bureau is kept in strict confidence under Federal Law and cannot be used for taxation, regulation, or investigation.

First Baptist Church Plans Special Music For Easter Worship

The CAROL CHOIR of the First Baptist Church of Cameron, will lead the congregation in worship through music with its presentation of "Hosanna, We Sing" arranged by Dorothy Best Rains, and "The Holy City", written and arranged by Stephen Adams, on Palm Sunday, April 10, in the evening service.

"The Holy City" is an excellent arrangement, combining the soloist, Roy Blackmon, with the youthful voices of the Junior Choir paralleled by a dramatic pantomime by three angels, Janice Hughes, Jenny Corley, and Cheryl Chamberlain.

The angels act as a heavenly host observing the actions interpreted in the song "Hosanna, We Sing", is a magnificent number, written especially for Juniors. This hymn-tune is rather difficult for Juniors in that the melody of the tune does not follow the accompaniment, along with an added part in the final movement of the music.

This Choir is composed of boys and girls ages 9 - 12. This is only one of the six choirs in the Graded Choir System sed by many Baptist Churches for creating a desire to use one's voice and the training of that voice. Mrs. H. M. Yager is working with this group. Twenty four are enrolled.

The public is invited to attend

County Agents Notes...

Delay Grafting Until Mid-April

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

Experience has shown that during early April sap flow in pecan trees in thin, watery and excessive, generally due to excess moisture and early growing conditions. If buds and grafts are placed on trees during these conditions, results are often disappointing.

Basically, trees that go through the winter in a dormant condition, have no leaves and very little, if any cell growth and transpiration during this period and the tree becomes dehydrated so far as moisture is concerned. As temperatures warm up in the Spring, leaf and bud development sets in and a surplus of sap flows rapidly to all parts of the tree. Pecan buds put on under these conditions have a tendency to drop.

Around mid April, full leaf development has occurred presenting a more ideal condition for the development of starches, sugars and other cellulose material. As these materials begin to form, the sap has a tendency to thicken, resulting in better cell formation for successful budding and grafting.

These desiring to test these conditions may do so by merely cutting through the tree bark with a knife blade. If the sap is thin and watery, excessive moisture will appear as the bark is cut. If the sap does not appear to be excessive, conditions are more ideal for budding and grafting.

Three Pecan Budding and Grafting Demonstrations Planned - Pecan budding and grafting demonstrations are planned for mid-April at the following places: Dr. O'Neal's place on Sandy Creek near Rockdale, the Lutheran Church at Buckholts and one in Cameron. Further information will be released on these demonstrations. Make Plans Early For Controlling Leaf Diseases - Fungal leaf spots of different sizes and colors appear on trees and shrubs from midsummer into the fall with an increasing occurrence. Most people do not get concerned until it is obvious to a casual observer that something is wrong with the plant.

Several different fungi or molds may cause these leaf spots. If the value of the shrub or shade tree is high enough to justify the cost, a preventive spray program is effective in reducing the damage.

Use 2 tablespoons of Captan or 2 tablespoons of Zineb per gallon of water. Add a spreader - sticker (common soap) to the spray. A combination of Zineb and Captan may be more effective. These chemicals may be mixed with insecticides for a dual purpose spray with safety and as a time saving operation. It is more important to have plants protected during times of above average rainfall or high humidity.

With bacterial leaf spots, it may be necessary to spray with a fixed or insoluble copper such as Copper A Compound or Tri - basic Copper Sulfate. Bordeaux mixture may also be used. Use fixed copper or Bordeaux with care since they may damage leaves to some extent. The use of a spreader sticker and avoiding hot weather will tend to lessen the spray damage.

Leaf spots may occur during the growing season. Continued premature loss of leaves may weaken a tree or shrub so that it is more susceptible to other troubles.

4-H Club members entering record books in Farmer's Cooperative, State Fair Award of Honor, Texas Farm Bureau Scholarships and Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Training Laboratory, should turn the books into the county agents office by April 15. Scholarships and trips are awarded to the winning record books.

and kerosene.

The best extinguisher in the world won't be ready to go into action when you need it most, unless you check and recharge it regularly. Follow the manufacturer's instructions on how to operate the extinguisher - know how to use it and make sure everyone on the farm knows how.

Another good fire fighting tool is a garden hose sprayer. Filled water buckets are also useful in spots in and around buildings. Particularly for home safety, ladders to reach the highest roof tops and windows should be quickly available at all times.

To complete your "first Aid" fire fighting equipment you need to be prepared for field and brush fires - with pump tanks or sprayers, fire swatters, brooms and burlap bags and water to wet them.

MORE PEOPLE, MORE WATER. People living in villages average using 60 gallons of water per day; those in large cities, about 290 gallons.

"FIRST AID" FIRE FIGHTING Spring Clean - Up is a good time to check how well you are prepared to fight and hold in check a fire on your farm until the fire department arrives, according to Assistant County Agent Robert W. Hoermann.

First and most important rule to follow, he says, is for you and your family not to take any necessary chances in attempting to deal with a fire - lives are irreplaceable, property is not. But it's good sense to be equipped with "first aid" fire fighting tools, and for you and everyone on your farm to know how to use them.

One important tool is the fire extinguisher - of adequate size and proper type for the kind of fire expected. Your fire department can advise you on types and sizes; the most reliable ones are those approved by nationally recognized testing laboratories. Extinguishers should be placed strategically in all fire danger areas - in home kitchens, barns, machine-sheds, storage tanks of gasoline

Feeding High Moisture Grain Produces Much Better Gains

COLLEGE STATION — Steers gained more when fed sorghum grain containing a high moisture level than steers fed dry grain of same quality in a test conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Steers fed the wet ground grain at 23 percent moisture, made gains of 2.42 pounds per day compared with gains of only 2.29 pounds for those fed dry grain.

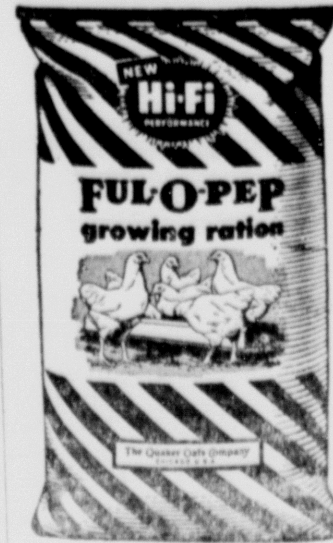

It was also found that unground grain sorghum containing 23 percent moisture would not produce as high gains as either ground grain at 23 percent moisture or ground dry grain.

The sorghum grain, RS 610, was harvested successfully at an average moisture level of 25 to 30 percent with a standard self-propelled combine. This was accomplished by slowing the ground speed and maintaining the cylinder speed at that used for threshing small grains. The moist grain was then stored successfully without spoilage or loss in an air-tight, glass-lined silo.

Steers fed the moist grain required 18 percent less dry matter from the grain and 12 percent less total dry matter per 100 pounds of gain than the steers fed ground dry grain. Additional work is now being conducted at A&M to determine if cattle consistently will perform more efficiently on high moisture sorghum grain.

Both types of ground grain were palatable and intake was essentially the same. No difficulty was encountered in grinding the grain or keeping the steers on feed. Selling price was the same for both groups of steers fed ground grain and dressing percentages and carcass grades did not differ significantly.

HER FRUIT COFFEE CAKE BRINGS $100 CASH PRIZE TO HUTTO HOMEMAKER

Key ingredient is Gladiola Hard Wheat Flour, says Mrs. Fritz Teichelman

Fruit coffee cake so light and luscious it's worth $100—that's the top prize winner for April in the Baking-Recipe-of-the-Month contest sponsored by the Gladiola Flour people.

And the lady who created this delightful yeast bread variation is Mrs. Fritz Teichelman, Route 1, Hutto, Texas.

She is donating $50, half her prize money, to the building fund of Immanuel Lutheran Church, West Taylor, Texas.

Praises Gladiola Flour

Baking delicious yeast breads is just one of Mrs. Teichelman's talents. Her favorite hobby is flower gardening, with emphasis on roses, and she's a whiz at quilting and crocheting.

Discussing her prize coffee cake recipe, which is printed on this page, Mrs. Teichelman says the key ingredient is Gladiola Special Hard Wheat Flour. "I discovered it about 20 years ago, and I often wonder how in the world I ever baked yeast bread without it.

GLADIOLA SPECIAL
HARD WHEAT FLOUR

Smooth, Strong Dough

"Women who still use all-purpose flour for baking yeast breads just can't imagine how much whiter and lighter, and how much finer in texture, everything turns out with Gladiola Special.

"You know it's going to turn out right by the way the dough feels in your hands. It's smooth instead of sticky. It's strong; too, with a real 'bounce' to it. And when your baking's done, all that wonderful yeast flavor is still inside."

Contest Benefits Men-folks

Mrs. Teichelman, who has two married sons and five grandchildren, feels that men will benefit most of all from Gladiola's Recipe-of-the-Month contest.

"After all, it's the men-folks we're thinking of when we bake. And now, with another special recipe coming along every month, we can keep surprising them with new yeast bread ideas."

"Extra $10.17 net profit per acre on maize after cost of ammonia"

CARROLL HATTER, JR. (RIGHT) OF MOODY, TEXAS, reports 1000 lbs. per acre maize increase with Phillips 66 Ammonia

"A careful check of maize yields on land with and without an application of 50 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia proved to us that nitrogen fertilized land yielded better than 1000 extra pounds per acre. This meant an extra $10.17 net profit per acre after cost of ammonia," according to Carroll Hatter, Jr., shown in photo with his cousin, Layton Hatter, Jr. (left).

"We could tell to the row where ammonia was applied. The nitrogen-fed maize was cut ten days earlier. We also noticed these maize plants had more roots and were bigger and stronger with those giant heads."

Thousands of Texas farmers use Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre—in wet or dry years. Field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) produces more high grade lint (2) increases sorghum grain and corn yields (3) boosts wheat and small grain yields (4) stimulates pasture growth for more meat and milk.

See your local Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia Distributor for your supply now. You can make more money this year with this concentrated 82% nitrogen fertilizer. It can be easily applied by you or your distributor.
